for a short presentation on

Stress Management for Farmers, Ranchers and Communities presented by Catholic Charities North Dakota

Where: NDSU Research Center-Langdon

When: January 14th; 7:00 pm

Catholic Charities North Dakota is excited to announce that we will be providing community meetings regarding resources and support for the current community crisis related to farming. We will be providing a presentation that discusses resources and ways to better support communities that are being impacted.

We will be offering support to clergy and community members that are currently providing this support if requested.

We will also be offering a follow up to the communities that request by attending coffee at a café, or where ever the community requests, for additional support and guidance.
