Zarriah

Seven-year-old Zarriah has an infectious sense of humor and loves being silly, sharing jokes, and making others laugh. She enjoys spending time with adults and feels proud when she can make others happy. Zarriah has so much love to give and appreciates hugs, encouragement, and reassurance.

Zarriah is energetic and loves to stay busy and on the go. She enjoys spending time with family and friends, playing games, sharing laughter, and participating in activities together.

Zarriah has experienced many transitions, yet she continues to approach each day with a positive attitude. She has formed meaningful relationships with previous caregivers who care deeply about her, and staying connected with them is important to her. Her life experiences have helped her develop maturity and resilience beyond her years.

Zarriah is full of joy and loves making people laugh. She is eager to help and especially enjoys one-on-one time with adults, along with praise and reassurance. Zarriah would enjoy a family that spends time together playing games, sharing ice cream, and including her in everyday activities.

Neveah is a sweet, kind, and helpful nine-year-old who is friendly, outgoing, and funny. She loves music, singing, dancing, drawing, spending time outdoors, horseback riding, and anything involving animals. Neveah also enjoys playing games with family, being with friends, doing her hair and makeup, and expressing herself through her clothing. She has participated in youth rodeo, gymnastics, volleyball, and choir. Although Neveah may not always show when something is bothering her, she has a big heart and benefits from having people who recognize and support her feelings.

Neveah is thoughtful, generous, and eager to help others. She loves to talk and especially enjoys one-on-one time with adults. She cares deeply about Zarriah and takes pride in being a supportive big sister who looks out for her.

Neveah has shared that she has lived in at least seven foster homes and has experienced several recent moves. Even through these difficult transitions, she continues to look for reasons to feel hopeful and reassures herself that things will be okay. Neveah makes friends easily and has shown remarkable strength and adaptability while adjusting to new people, homes, and situations.

Neveah is loving and would bring a great deal of warmth to a family. She enjoys showing people that she cares, whether she is looking out for Zarriah, drawing pictures for family members, or doing small, thoughtful things to let others know she is thinking about them.
